

The TESA CONNECTION

The Official Publication of the Texas Educational Support Staff Association, Inc.

Volume LXX, Number 2—Winter 2020

From the President

Greetings TESA Members,

Well, after anxiously awaiting the fall weather - when it finally arrived, we were able to enjoy it for a couple of weeks. Then here came the winter roaring in! Nowhere else but Texas can one experience four seasons in one month.

The theme for the winter issue is “Great Minds Working Together for TESA,” which brings to mind my logo, Mind, Seeds, Grow & Service. Think of your subconscious mind as the soil in which you plant your garden, in which the soil offers a foundation for seeds to grow and take root. However, the soil does not discriminate so all forms of plants or weeds will grow. Your conscious mind is your everyday mind, and contains the thoughts you hear, see, and that which you eventually do. In our garden, your conscious mind would be the seeds, and each of your thoughts is a seed. We must be mindful and skillful which seeds we plant and how we nurture them. Simply step back and observe, and be reminded that you can grow beautiful flowers by planting seeds of positivity and nourish with encouraging self-talk. Also, remember that you have the power to weed out any growth of negativity and to choose what grows and what does not.

The TESA Executive Board, committees and members are an excellent example of great minds working together for TESA. We all strive to bring out the best in others and ourselves. The board and committee members have been working tirelessly to bring opportunities for self-development, persuading members to volunteer, recruiting new members and affiliates, enlisting affiliates to host a TESA Workshop, publishing an excellent issue of the Newsletter and planning a Summer Work Conference, which will be held in Bryan-College Station in June 2020. I encourage everyone to read the newsletter to see how all the board, committees, members and affiliates are all working together for TESA.

I am hopeful that everyone had a restful, safe winter break, with time off to rejuvenate you for the upcoming semester.

Again, to leave you with a quote— “Minds are like flowers; they open only when the time is right.” Stephen Richards

Great Minds Working Together For TESA

By Sue Hand, CEO

Recently many of us were wearing our favorite Astros attire, staying up late, binge eating, biting our nails, and experiencing the thrill of the victories, and the agony of the defeats. The Astros and Nationals played at least 75 games after their season began in February with spring training. Everyone knows major league sport players spend a good deal of their off-season conditioning and staying in optimum shape for the regular season. Hours of training, planning and playing are required by the manager, various coaches, trainers, as well as by the players. Collaborating over many months of hard work, the Astros and Nationals produced teams worthy of playing in the World Series.

Thankfully, none of us will be required to stare down a 100 mph baseball. At times, some of us may feel like we are standing alone at home plate, but that is truly not the case. You may not be aware that some individuals start working before or immediately after the annual conference in June. Yes, throughout the year, your TESA Board and committee members, consultants and advisers, along with affiliates are meeting timelines. Month after month, they are busily collaborating to leverage TESA's strength to maintain its professional worthiness. Through their efforts, we have numerous opportunities to network and socialize, sharing the same vision and similar goals; and our passion shines...with great minds working together for TESA.

Staying ahead of the curve ball, we must ensure our conference programs and staff development coursework are relevant for today's educational office, as well as to anticipate changes required for the future. In order to create an atmosphere essential for growth, there must be clear expectations and open lines of communication.

Each of us has the potential to ignite our members the way Springer's grand slam propelled the Astros to a win. We must have a willingness to share our resources with others. Member input is vital to keep TESA relevant, i.e., participate in surveys, attend workshops and the annual conference, and stay connected through board/committee dialogue. Networking always offers tremendous benefits from trendsetting ideas to the latest technology.

No matter which position you play for TESA, you are a vital player. You may serve on the board, coach your local affiliate, or represent TESA on the field as an individual player. There are always open positions where you can grow your mindset and skills while also benefitting the TESA team.

TESA Purpose Statement

Message from the Editor

By: Sharon Mena, CEOP, CEOE—Texas A&M University

I hope you enjoy the winter issue of The TESA Connection, with our chosen theme—“Great Minds Working Together for TESA.” Articles in this issue highlight the collaboration of members and affiliates throughout Texas, all working together for TESA in various ways.

Locally, we saw members from the Tomball Educational Support Staff Association (TESSA), who as a team, hosted their first Area Workshop on December 7. TESSA members enlisted community support from local businesses which provided attendees with a variety of vendors for holiday shopping opportunities. The line-up for the day featured speakers, as well as other professional development choices, including breakout sessions and STEM classes.

From across the state, members of TESA’s Summer Work Conference (SWC) Committee have been working all year to create a fabulous conference June 22-25, 2020. Likewise, members of the Awards, Scholarship and Journalist Committee are ready to accept applications and nominations. These and many other TESA committees are busy throughout the year, working together for our members.

As you read this issue, I encourage you to consider how you would like to get more involved in TESA. When great minds work together for TESA, we create a stronger, more vibrant organization and enhance our individual professional growth.

Host an Area Workshop in 2020!

PLANT YOUR SEEDS and watch them GROW by hosting a TESA AREA WORKSHOP this year!

Hosting an area workshop is a great way to network with TESA members and other TESA affiliates, gain more professional development and STEM class opportunities.

Remember you can always partner with other affiliates. The Area Workshop Committee is here to support you by promoting your workshop in our area, by attending your event, help out onsite and anything else you need to make your workshop a huge success!

We encourage you to set a date and start sowing your seeds!

For more information, contact Stacy Wright at stacyw@vpsa.tamu.edu.

Rio Grande Valley Education Support Staff Association (VESA)

Time seems to be flying by faster than ever, and I am asking myself—“What happened to 2019?” VESA members are continuing our monthly meetings, focusing on self-development not only in the workplace, but also throughout our daily lives and team building. Our goals continue to include speakers who will present ways in which we can maintain this improvement throughout the remainder of the school year. Our November 14 meeting featured Carolyn Mendiola, Superintendent for Mercedes ISD, who provided us with applicable motivation on “servant leadership.”

a Christmas Memory game. We ended the evening with members singing the “Twelve Days of Christmas,” and everyone enjoyed a great time!

As part of our community service project, members brought supplies for our local Aurora House. The Aurora House is a licensed Special Care Facility that provides compassionate end-of-life care at no cost to the patient. This special house offers love and compassion through trained community volunteers and a staff of nursing assistants—and provides a home-like atmosphere, with clean and comfortable private rooms. The Aurora House does not receive any form of governmental funding and relies fully on community donations to provide care for its patients. The Aurora House has been a place where many relatives and friends of VESA members have lived the last days of their lives. On December 10, several VESA members went to the Aurora House to deliver the donations, along with a $200 check and other monetary donations from co-workers. This is the seventh year that we have been assisting the Aurora House.

VESA members are also preparing the “second-semester kick-off” with our annual raffle fundraiser. This raffle will consist of gift cards for various businesses and other prizes. With the help of the Donna ISD VESA members, Ofelia Barrón and Lisa Gonzalez (Donna ISD) are serving as Co-Chairs for this raffle. We gathered gift cards and prizes during our December meeting. On January 9, we will distribute tickets for the raffle slated for our March 12 meeting. Our culmination to this year will be the 53rd Annual Bosses Banquet that will take place on May 1, 2020, at the Professional Learning Center at Weslaco ISD. Patty Garcia and Belia Solis, Weslaco ISD are Co-Chairs for this committee.

Everyone is excited to see what the second part of this school year has in store for us!

Andrew Chew, Mercedes ISD, presenting Carolyn Ann Mendiola, Superintendent, Mercedes ISD with a thank you gift for being our speaker at our November 14, 2019 VESA Meeting

Killeen Educational Support Staff Association (KESA)

By Michelle Gerard

The Killeen Educational Support Staff Association (KESA) collected socks and underwear for the month of November for our Killeen Independent School District Homeless Awareness Response Program (HARP). HARP receives clothing donations for all ages. Socks and underwear are always needed. In place of KESA's annual toy donations, we decided to have a Sock and Underwear Drive for homeless children. What a joy it is to give to those in need.

We have boxes at different locations in KISD and a church in Killeen is also participating in our drive.

Garland Educational Support Staff Association (GESSA) Service and Giving Back to Help Members Bloom

By Juliana Holmes, CEOP

GESSA is involved in a service project this year for the Genesis Women's Shelter in Garland. Natalia Alvizo, GESSA Service Project Chairman, has been in contact with Genesis, to determine their needs at this time. We will be donating needed items and other ways our members may be able to help the children. For example, in October, we collected diapers and baby items; for November/December, we are collecting gift cards for the women to use to purchase Christmas gifts or needed items for their children. The cards, in increments of $5, $10, or $25, will be from Walmart, Dollar Tree, or Target. GESSA accepted donations to purchase these cards through December 20.

In February, GESSA will host "Bowling with your Babe." This will be a "family event" to raise money towards scholarships for paraprofessionals and high school seniors. Our hope is to generate a large turnout on a Sunday afternoon, for all to enjoy bowling, family and friends, as well as to build an amazing scholarship fund!

I am so proud of all our members for stepping up and giving back to help others. Be assured that you are the key to giving a child a more enjoyable holiday season, or assisting a paraprofessional or student toward their education.

ALONE we can do so little;
TOGETHER we can do so much

From the Staff Training for Effective Management (STEM) Committee

By Juliana Holmes, CEOP

Great minds think alike and these great minds can help TESA to grow and blossom. Questions are a wonderful way to learn and expand our knowledge. Recently I have answered many questions about STEM (Staff Training for Effective Management) classes from paraprofessionals wanting to know what it is, how it helps them and how they can get started. It is wonderful seeing their faces light up with excitement about learning something new and improving themselves at the same time. STEM is an enjoyable way to increase your ability to work more efficiently and have more time for family and friends. Earning your CEOP (Certified Educational Office Professional) distinction will give you a sense of accomplishment and pride. Keep watching the TESA website for updates to the STEM calendar.

It would be so nice to get your Great Mind Blooming with STEM and earning your CEOP...ask us how!

Field Trip to Magnolia Silo Marketplace Brazos Valley Educational Support Staff Association (BVESA) By Dagmar Poteet

Who would have thought that a thought would grow into an idea – that would grow into an event – that would grow into a WOW!

That is exactly what happened when the organizing members of the Brazos Valley Education Support Staff (BVESA) had the idea to do something together that would be fun and outside a normal meeting.

The thought was for a few friends to go to The Silos in Waco for a fun day trip. Then the thought became the idea of inviting other TESA affiliates that were geographically close to meet us at The Silos.

The next growth was to get out invitations about the event. We designed a special flyer with all the information, and distributed it by personal email to those in the Brazos Valley and beyond.

Then the WOW happened—two members from Brazos Valley and eight (yes EIGHT), from Killeen showed up at the front entrance to The Silos in Waco. After coffee and pastries, the shopping began. The shoppers spent time at the Silos and then down the street to another location for more shopping and more coffee and pastries. Later, it was off to Ninfa's restaurant for great Mexican food. After lunch, the group separated, with the Killeen group in search of The Silos discount location, while BVESA members continued their shopping at Spicewood Village.

BVESA is planning more growing thoughts in the coming months. Come grow with us!

Tomball Educational Support Staff Association (TESSA)

By Bridgette Manuel

Quickly heading into the holidays, TESSA members had an opportunity to create and design. In October, we were blessed to have Sherry Namken (TESSA Member) teach paraprofessionals how to create a succulent potted plant using an assortment of succulents, rocks and soil/sand. Everyone was able to take home their very own succulent treasure.

In November, “giving hope to others” was the theme. TESSA members painted rocks with positive words or pictures of encouragement. Once our creations are passed on to others, they will act as a “pick-me-up” and remind them that they are loved. Hopefully, that person will then pass the rock on to someone else that needs a similar message of encouragement.

Sowing Seeds of Creativity

TESA has creative members growing new talents this year. Brazos Valley Educational Support Staff Association members have been working together creating a quilt to raise funds for scholarships. Watch for raffle tickets coming soon.

Members of Tomball Educational Support Staff Association met in November to paint rocks with positive words and pictures to pass onto others as a “pick me up” and love.

What will TESA members come up with next to enhance their lives as well as those of others we meet every day or in the future?

Let's plant more TESA seeds and watch them grow into

Tomball Educational Support Staff Association Holds First Area Workshop

By Sharon Mena, CEOP, CEOE

Members of the Tomball Educational Support Association (TESSA) held their first Area Workshop on December 7, 2019, at Oakcrest Intermediate School. TESSA chose as their theme: "Come Grow with Us! Cultivating Paras, One Seed at a Time!"

TESSA members from across the state began arriving at 7 a.m. were treated to a light breakfast before heading to their first session. The keynote speaker, Dr. Martha Salazar-Zamora, Superintendent of Tomball Independent School District, delivered a motivational message for the day. The lineup for the day included STEM classes and a choice of breakout sessions. The two STEM classes were Assertiveness Training, by Debbie Wade; and Professional Growth Plan, by Barbara Jennings. Breakout sessions included "Creating a Professional Presence and How to Get the Job You Didn't Know You Wanted," by Sharon Mena; "Grow With Us, The Seasons of Our Lives", by Barbara Jennings; "Credit Coaching", by Andrew Meese and Kelly Fay; "Planting Seeds, Pulling Weeds", by Debbie Wade; and "Why Google and Dating the Google Calendar," by Tina Niemann.

During lunch, those addressing the attendees included Marie Enax, Stacy Wright and Sue Hand. TESSA President, Marie Enax, welcomed guests and provided an update from the Executive Board. Stacy Wright, Area Workshops Chair, presented gifts of appreciation to the TESSA workshop committee. Summer Workshop Chair Sue Hand introduced the schedule for the annual conference on June 22-25, 2020, in Bryan/College Station. TESSA held a raffle for two "designer-fragrance" gift baskets.

Between the breakout sessions, attendees enjoyed Christmas shopping at the following vendors' booths: Avon, Mary Kay Cosmetics, Pampered Chef, Arbonne, Usborne Books, Wicket Spirit, Thirty-One Bags, Premier Designs Jewelry, Moore Handcrafted Woods, Sherry's Succulents, and Creek Amingy Farms. Just a sample of items for sale were: skin care items, kitchen tools, books, spirit wear, holiday items, hand warmers, homemade soaps, cheese boards and wood furniture.

TESSA members would like to express their appreciation to the many donors who contributed to the workshop's success. Generous donors included H-E-B; Papa John's Pizza; Redtop Bakery; Minuti Italian Coffee; First Community Credit Union-Tomball; Plants for All Seasons; Brazos Valley Educational Support Staff Association; Office Depot; Velvet Harris Group/Gary Greene Realty; Wicked Spirit; Tomball ISD; Oakcrest Intermediate, and 3M.

TESSA's first workshop was a great success and we wish to thank Lisa Gonzalez, Marie Enax and Stacy Wright for their guidance and support. TESSA committee members include Teri Baldrige, Terri Marfisi, Tamra Pittman, Bridgette Manual and Joann Garner.

Annual Holiday Bazaar Nets $14,000

Mesquite Educational Paraprofessional Association (MEPA)

Submitted by Yvonne Smeltzer, CEOP

The Mesquite Educational Paraprofessionals Association (MEPA) held their annual holiday bazaar on Saturday, December 14, 2019, at Poteet High School. The event attracted more than 100 vendors with a wide selection of shopping available. The annual basket raffle was a huge hit, with the top basket selling over 900 tickets. Overall, the event was an enormous success, garnering over $14,000. All proceeds benefit MEPA's scholarship fund for graduating seniors and paraprofessionals pursuing a degree.

MEPA President Lisa Porter and Santa. Who knows what she told him!

Committee members for the bazaar were Lisa Porter, Deloria Harmon, Yvonne Smeltzer and Debbie Faires. Additionally, to ensure everything ran smoothly, MEPA recruited volunteers—even the school's baseball and football teams! Many thanks to everyone involved who made the 2019 the most successful holiday bazaar yet.

Working Together for TESA in Tomball ISD (TESSA)

By Tamra Pittman

There is an old expression that goes, “A mind is a terrible thing to waste.” This has been the slogan of the United Negro College Fund since 1972. This organization, also known as the United Fund, is an American philanthropic organization that funds scholarships for black students, many of whom are the first in their families to attend college. You may be wondering what the relevance is...

It is an example of what is at the heart of the Tomball Educational Support Staff Association (TESSA) in Tomball ISD, evidenced each school year—as we work together to reach our association’s goals.

Those goals are primarily to continue education for our paraprofessional members through area workshops and STEM classes through TESA...workshops just like the one we hosted on Saturday, December 7, 2019, at Oakcrest Intermediate School. TESSA also supports our district’s graduating seniors as they head off to college, hopefully with one of our scholarships to aid them and their families, regardless of race or whether they may be the first in their families—or just another link in a mighty chain of educated minds.

Along with our minds, we use our hands and feet and hold fundraisers to make these accomplishments for our students and paraprofessionals. When we reach our goals and see our successes, our hearts leap with joy, as evidence that it takes all parts of the body and all kinds of people to make our association amazing.

Our 2019-2020 TESSA Board consists of five leaders - women with great minds, creative, hardworking hands and generous hearts. Each leader brings something to our 50-member strong association that the others need in order to be as successful as we all want to be in our endeavors. This collaboration brings to mind another old expression, “Many hands make light work.” Whether we are 5 or 50, or anywhere in between, when we put our minds together, along with our hearts, plus our hands and feet, to accomplish great things—nothing goes to waste!
